

Liddell Gardens
KENSAL RISE, LONDON, NW10
£1,800,000

Kate Brookfield presents this exceptional four bedroom mid terrace house in Kensal Rise, London NW10.

Located on one of the area's most popular roads, this beautiful home has been fully extended and thoughtfully designed throughout. Featuring classic interiors with depth, warmth and texture, this is a true example of a perfect family home.

The charm begins from the street, with mature planting lining the path towards the original decorative porch and 1930s door. There's a convenient space for children's bikes and scooters, and the whole area is neatly arranged.

Entering into the hallway, checkerboard floors line the hallway and lead to the ground-floor spaces, with an open area beneath the stairs providing space for pushchairs and everyday items. To the front of the house is a bright living space with a bay window, while at the rear, the extended kitchen and day space open directly onto the garden.

This space truly is the heart of the home, with a bespoke kitchen by Vale Designs, Versailles parquet flooring, a dedicated utility room, and an additional living and dining area set beneath three skylights. Sliding doors open onto the Cotswold inspired garden, with multiple zones for entertaining and an eighty year old bay tree. Back inside the home, a guest WC with House of Hackney wallpaper and Burlington fittings completes the ground floor.

The first floor of the home hosts two generously sized double bedrooms, a large single bedroom and a family bathroom. Tongue and groove wall panelling features throughout the ground and first floor hallways, continuing into the bathroom and very much leaning into its classic country aesthetic.

The principal bedroom occupies the full top floor of the house, with a private bathroom, multiple fitted wardrobes and eaves storage.
